Legislature to Begin Pardons Board Probe

Joint Committee to Be Named By State Assembly on Monday

HARRISBURG (UP) — The machinery for the first full-scale legislative investigation of the current session will be set up when the General Assembly reconvenes Monday.

A six-member committee of the House and Senate will be appointed to look into the activities of the state Pardons Board, particularly its handling of the controversial David Darcy clemency case.

House Speaker W. Stuart Helm (R-Armstrong) will name three members from that chamber, while Sen. M. Harvey Taylor (R-Dauphin) Senate president pro tempore, will pick three senators to undertake the Republican-sponsored inquiry.

The case became an issue in the 1956 election campaigns after Gov. George M. Leader, acting upon recommendation of the board, commuted to life imprisonment the death sentences imposed on Darcy and two companions, Harold Foster and Harry Zeitz. They were convicted of killing William Kelly, a bystander, during a holdup at the Feasterville Inn in Bucks County in 1947.

Power of Subpena

The committee will have the power of subpena, together with the right to press criminal action against anyone who refuses to testify or produce records and books."

The resolution approved by the Legislature last week says "the opinion prevails in many quarters that political considerations influenced the action of the Board of Pardons in this and other recent cases."

On the fiscal front, the House will organize in Appropriations Committee for the opening of hearings Feb. 18 on the governor's $1,604,338,735 General Fund budget for the 1957-59 fiscal period.

The committee, headed by Rep. Norman Wood (R-Lancaster) expects to take six or eight weeks to go over the 208-page document. It will call in heads of various departments and agencies and ask them to justify their proposed expenditures.

Republican legislative leaders who control both branches have served notice of their intention to "hold the line" against imposition of any new taxes, despite the governor's call for $108,613,231 in new revenues to balance his budget.

The Senate will reconvene at 3 p.m. and the House at 4.30 p.m. Monday.

Finding Competent People 'Hardest Job'—Leader

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader said today his "hardest job" in Harrisburg has been—and still is— to find competent people for key professional technical and administrative positions.

Leader, speaking at the mid-year commencement exercises at the University of Pennsylvania where he received an honorary doctor of laws degree, called upon colleges and universities to adopt improvement of government services as one of their principal missions.

"The plain and distressing fact is that government—especially local and state government—is not attracting enough men and women with sufficient professional and administrative ability," he said. "Yet the highly complex services of these governments require superior ability," Leader added.

He said the difficulty cannot be attributed solely to the "undesirable aspect of employment in our state's service." Almost all municipal and state governments in the United States are having similar difficulty, he added.

Leader said the burden of developing the knowledge, skills and leadership that government needs "will rest increasingly" on colleges and universities.

Candidates File Petitions for Greensburg Post

Percy R. Sheetz, Sr., Republican, and Joseph H. Rush, Democrat, have filed separate petitions to be appointed mayor of Greensburg, records at Westmoreland County courthouse revealed yesterday.

Both petitions had 15 signers, five more than the law requires, and were submitted to the courts immediately upon expiration of the 30-day deadline following the death of Mayor Robert L. Potts.

The two petitions were submitted because of the failure of Greensburg City Council Monday night to elect a mayor to fill the vacancy. At that time, Councilmen Sheetz and Rush were both nominated on separate ballots, but neither received the necessary majority of the four councilmen present.

There is no specified time for the court to act upon the two petitions or any others that may be submitted.

Royal 'Rift' Denied; Queen Elizabeth on Way to Meet Philip

LISBON, Portugal (UP) — Portuguese authorities said today they were taking discreet measures to ensure Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburg complete privacy next week for their two-day "second honeymoon."

The British royal couple will be reunited at the windswept airbase of Montijo on Feb. 16 and then will "disappear" from the eyes of the world for two days together before they start a state visit here on Feb. 18.

It was understood they would spend the time as guests of the Duke of Palmella in his 40-room country home overlooking the sea off the Arrabida coast 30 miles south of Lisbon. The Duke of Palmella is former ambassador to the Court of St. James.

Their Largest Separation

The separation of the queen and her husband — more than four months — has been the longest since their marriage. Prince Philip left England Oct. 14 for the Australian Olympics and an around-the-world cruise.

Philip will arrive at the sardine fishing port of Setubal Feb. 15 aboard the royal yacht Britannia. Elizabeth advanced her plans to fly to Portugal the next day to meet him.

Romantic Portuguese refused to believe the rumors of a rift, published Friday in an American newspaper. And the advance party from London, arranging details of the visit, likewise ridiculed the report.

Observers close to the royal family said the queen was very much in love with her husband and, like any other wife, decided to fly to Portugal ahead of schedule to meet him.

Reports of a "rift" between Queen Elizabeth and the duke brought a flat "It's a lie" Friday night from the queen's press secretary, Cmdr. Richard Colville, official spokesman of Buckingham Palace.

"Another Woman" Denied

The terse but outspoken denial followed reports in the Baltimore Sun that the royal couple was at odds over "another woman." Members of the royal family often have been the subject of many and varying rumors, but Buckingham Palace reacted with unusual speed to this latest report.

Britain's press, by unanimous agreement, ignored the report of the rift completely, obviously taking the position that the rift rumor was too ridiculous to put in print.

British sources said the American story placed the palace in the position of the man who was asked if he had stopped beating his wife. If the palace did not deny the report, some would take it as an indication something was wrong. A royal denial could bring cries of "Ah ha. . ."

County Medical Society Urging Vaccine Program

Members of the Westmoreland County Medical Society are urging all children and adults in the county to be inoculated with the Salk vaccine, a polio preventative.

The procedure of Salk vaccine is three injections, the first two a month apart and the third-seven months after the second.

The Society urges parents of the children who received Salk vaccine in their first and second grades to have their third injection to complete this immunity, if they have not already done so.

Vaccine is available to persons of all ages through their family physician.

The State Department of Health has made available free vaccine to all under 20 years of age and expectant mothers who are unable to pay for it. Arrangements should be made with your family physician to secure this vaccine.

Through the immunization programs of the past, diptheria has been practically eradicated and it is the hope of the Society to do likewise with polio.

Floyd, according to Kuvinka, signed a statement stating he took $400 from the Croatian Club, and two fifths of whiskey from the New York Restaurant at 1212 Schoonmaker avenue on Dec. 16; $35 and two fifths of whiskey from the Independent Benevolent Protective Order of Elks at 1015 Schoonmaker avenue on Dec. 19, and $20 and a fifth of whiskey from the Legio nHome at 1050 Schoonmaker avenue also on Dec. 19.

Jurors Told to Report Monday In Washington

All jurors drawn to serve for the first two-week period of court in Washington County, starting Monday, were reminded today to report as scheduled Monday morning.

The presiding judge of the February term, George T. Cummins, said he believed some of the jurors may misunderstand the significance of the hearing on the challenges to jurors and feel that they do not have to report as scheduled.

"A decision in the challenge case," he said, "will in no way affect the jury panel because less than 100 civil cases are involved in the challenges."

The judge pointed out that jurors will be required to hear the remaining civil cases on the February list as well as all the criminal cases shceduled for the term of court, even if the challenges are upheld.

A panel of 110 jurors was drawn for the first two-week period although 16 of those drawn have already been excused because of illness or other reason. The remaining 94 must report Monday morning.

SHOOTS WOMEN — Shy, pleasant Gary Addison Taylor, 20, is shown in custody in Detroit after admitting he is the "phantom sniper" who has been taking potshots at women and girls since Dec. 21. "I like to shoot women," he said. "I've had this bug since I was a child. It's a compulsion." Taylor, son of a prosperous Royal Oak, Mich., merchant, was captured after he shot two girls and fired at six other girls. His arrest clears up 10 shootings and a criminal assault.

Detroit Sniper Just Liked to Shoot at Women

DETROIT (UP)—The "Phantom Sniper of Royal Oak" who wounded three persons and shot at 13 others in a two-month reign of terror because he had a "compulsion to hurt women" was held on an open charge today.

Frederick C. Ziem, Oakland County prosecutor, indicated that formal charges of assault with intent to commit murder would be filed Monday against Gary A. Taylor, 20. But Ziem said authorities still had considerable checking to do before filing charges.

Taylor, a blond, six-foot factory worker, was captured by police Thursday night after a wild chase that followed a rash of shootings in which two women were wounded slightly and six others were shot at.

Taylor signed a statement admitting a series of mysterious shootings the past two weeks that baffled police.

Demonstrations Show Solidarity; UN Plans Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP) — Israel called nationwide demonstrations today to show the nation's solidarity against the U. N. resolutions demanding it give up the Gaza Strip and areas along the Gulf of Aqaba.

The demonstrations, which included the dropping of leaflets by planes over Tel Aviv, also emphasized Israel's readiness to risk U. N. sanctions if it refuses to give up the territories without guarantees against Egyptian attacks.

The U.N. General Assembly, takes up the Middle East question again on Tuesday, was waiting word from Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold before deciding on the next step.

Sanctions Still Debated

The 27-nation Afro-Asian bloc was demanding economic, military or diplomatic discipline of Israel, but the United Nations failure to vote sanctions against Russia for its intervention in Hungary may prevent the body from voting them against Israel.

The chairman of the Afro-Asian bloc spoke confidently of a two-thirds vote for sanctions, but the group appeared divided on the wisdom of the act. There also was some doubt the United States would support sanctions.

Hammarskjold was keeping his own counsel. But informed sources said he would recommend the assembly fix a firm deadline for the withdrawal of Israeli troops, with the implied threat of sanctions if Israel ignored the timetable. He may present his Mideast report to the assembly on Tuesday.

Ike Plea Rejected

Israel not only rejected the U.N. resolutions, but Premier David Ben Gurion turned down a plea from President Eisenhower to quit Egyptian territory. An Israeli government spokesman said the situation had reached rock bottom and there could be no further retreat.

Every Israeli statement said there must be guarantees of freedom of navigation in the Gulf of Aqaba and adequate safeguards against the renewal of Egyptian Fedayeen (Commando) attacks from the Gaza Strip.

Ben Gurion, in a three-page letter to President Eisenhower, was reported to have pointed out a long list of Egyptian attacks since 1948 and to have recalled the fact Israeli shipping was barred from the Suez Canal.

State Filing Liens Against Many Merchants

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Revenue Department said today it has filed property liens against 268 Pennsylvania merchants in courthouses throughout the Commonwealth to collect more than $100,000 overdue in sales tax returns.

"We have given these firms every opportunity to clear their record," Revenue Secretary Gerald A. Gleeson said. "We notified them by registered mail of their obligation, so they might make payment of the amounts due. When these back taxes were not forthcoming, we took action by filing property liens to obtain the monies rightfully due the Commonwealth."

The taxes are owed on the old 1 per cent sales tax which expired Aug. 31, 1955. The current 3 per cent sales levy became effective last March.

Gleeson said the businesses assessed included automobile dealers, furniture stores, plumbing and heating companies, construction firms, storm door and window companies, drug stores, camera shops, public utilities and jewelers.

J. Lawrence Buchanan, district manager of the Monessen area, said the new agreement affects more than 100 employes in his section.

The company said starting rates will be increased $4 for all job classifications, and the maximum wage is increased from $3 to $4 depending upon the job classification.

The company and the FTW have been negotiating for several weeks. The contract, which must be voted on by the union by Feb. 25, will run until April 30, 1958.

More State Jobs Put Under Civil Service

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader today announced that 5,900 additional jobs in state government have been placed under civil service by the state Executive Board.

Leader said the action brought the total number of positions placed under civil service by the board to approximately 9,000 and places practically all professional and technical positions under civil service status. The governor said the action was prompted by a desire to make skilled professional and technical jobs in state government more attractive and to permit more effective recruitment.

Present incumbents in the positions brought under civil service status by the board will be required to pass a qualifying examination given by the Civil Service Commission before they obtain permanent tenure. All new appointments to the jobs must be made on a provisional basis if an eligible registrar is lacking or by competitive examination if certification by an eligible registrar is available.

The only categories exempted in general from the Executive Board action were secretaries, assistant secretaries, Bureau chiefs, positions of policy making responsibility and those of the "kitchen cabinet" variety involving close personal relationship between the head of a department and an employee. The governor cited attorneys, personnel officers, writers and other information specialists as examples of the latter category.

Non-professional positions, where the skills may be fairly rapidly earned by repetition on the job, were not included in the board's action, the governor added.

Trains Wrecked on The 'Safest Track'

RIPLEY, N.Y. (UP)—Crewmen worked today to clear the wreckage of 32 derailed cars from an electronically-controlled stretch of track, described as the "world's safest," where a New York Central passenger train collided late Friday with a freight train, killing an engineer.

Railroad investigators were mystified by the wreck which blocked both tracks on the New York Central's main line in this southwestern New York community, 20 miles from Erie, Pa. One of the 75 passengers aboard The Easterner was slightly injured.

The engineer of the passenger train, J. B. Miller, 65, of Cleveland, was killed when he leaped from the cab an instant before the crash at a switch-over point, operated electronically from Erie. His body was pinned beneath the engine. The Easterner's fireman, Ned Thompson of Linesville, Pa., who was in the cab with Miller escaped injury.

The railroad's chief dispatcher at Erie, Vincent Ruth, said he was unable to understand how the accident could have occurred.

"We were switching the 77-car freight onto another track when it happened. For some reason the freight didn't clear in time and The Easterner slammed into it at the crossing. It's a mystery how such a thing could happen."

King Saud Heads Home; In Agreement with Ike

New Lease Is Granted U. S. for Vital Air Base

WASHINGTON (UP)—King Saud of Saudi Arabia headed homeward today in "full agreement" with President Eisenhower on measures to defend the Middle East against aggression.

Highlights of the outcome of the two-week Saud visit are a new five-year lease granting American use of the vital Dhahran Air Base and agreement for delivery of American arms to Saudi Arabia.

Saud and his closest advisers planned to board President Eisenhower's personal plane today for a trans-Atlantic flight to Madrid.

Nixon, Dulles Bid Goodbye

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles planned to be at the airport to say goodbye to the brown-robed king and his royal party. Mr. Eisenhower left the capital Friday for Thomasville, Ga., immediately after holding his final bargaining session with Saud.

The 55-year-old king will pay a four-day state visit to Spain before flying to Cairo for important talks with Egyptian, Syrian and Jordanian leaders.

A few of the king's advisers remained here to conduct "further negotiations" with the United States on the amount of arms Saudi Arabia will get under the new agreement.

No Cost Estimate

Weapons will include jet planes and tanks. Their value is expected to be far short of the $200 million to $250 million worth hoped for in advance by the king. But U.S. officials would not put a price tag on the arms deal.

Talks also will be continued here on economic aid for Saudi Arabia which the United States agreed to consider. One of the proposed aid projects is development of the port of Damman, which is near the $50 million U.S. base at Dhahran.

United States officials said they had been unable to get the king to change the provision of the 1951 Dhahran Air Base agreement which has the effect of barring American servicemen who are Jews.

She was born in South Huntingdon Township, a daughter of Roy and Margaret Williams Hepler. She was graduated from South Huntingdon Township High School in 1946 and later took extension work at Pennsylvania State University.

Serious Shortage of Fuel in New York City

NEW YORK (UP)—A serious fuel shortage in the Greater New York area was imminent today following the collapse of negotiations in the nine-day tugboat strike.

As reports of fuel oil shortages poured into police headquarters, fuel distributors warned that oil supplies were reaching a critical stage.

Distributors agreed that their supplies will be exhausted by early next week. But a spokesman for the oil industry said a sudden change from the relatively mild weather the area has been experiencing would result in "utter chaos."

Hundreds of appeals already have been received for fuel, including four from hospitals and two from homes for the aged. Nearly 300 were received from apartment houses.

City Plans Rationing

Rationing machinery and other emergency measures, already set up by the city, were expected to be placed into effect shortly. A quick settlement appeared unlikely, following a breakdown of bargaining talks Friday.

Leaders of the striking tug and barge crewmen and the employers' group were pessimistic over an early end to the work stoppage which has cut off 70 per cent of the fuel deliveries to New York.

"A very serious impasse has developed," according to one of the federal mediators who, with city mediators, have been trying to resolve the contract dispute that has immobilized 400 tugboats, barges, tankers and other craft in New York harbor.

No further negotiations were scheduled, thus assuring that the crippling strike will extend until next week.

Adding to the woes of the nation's largest port was the virtual certainty that 25,000 longshoremen would quit their jobs here Tuesday afternoon when an 80-day cooling off injunction expires.

Negotiators for the International Longshoremen's Assn. and the New York Shipping Assn. continued negotiations today, but hopes for a settlement were dim.

A longshoremen's strike would be a continuation of one halted last November by an injunction. Coupled with the tugboat strike, it would paralyze the port of New York. The longshoremen's strike, moreover, probably would involve all ports from Portland, Me., to Hampton Roads, Va., since dock workers in those ports also have rejected final management offers.

Dock workers in south Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports would not be affected, however, since they have agreed to contract terms since the invoking of the Taft-Harley law that temporarily halted the November strike.

PTA Executive Committee Plans For Activities

The executive committee of the Monessen Parent Teacher Association met Thursday evening at 9 o'clock in the office of Dr. Joseph Pallone, superintendent of schools.

W. R. H. Patterson, president, was in charge and routine reports were given by Mrs. Matt Zoretich, recording secretary and Mrs. Ed Stern, treasurer.

Mrs. Stern announced that two electric water coolers were purchased for local grade schools.

A donation of $10 was voted to the State P.T.A. as a Founder's Day gift since February is Founder's month.

Mrs. John Stieska, ways and means chairman, outlined projects of her committee including the Feb. 14 smorgasbord to be held at the High School cafeteria.

Mrs. John Dragan, program chairman, announced that the next meeting will be Thursday, Feb. 21, and a "Hobby Night" will be featured.

Court Impounds Transcripts of Turnpike Probe

HARRISBURG (UP)—Dauphin County Court has impounded unauthorized transcripts of the proceedings of the special grand jury which investigated the activities of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

The action was taken by Acting President Judge William H. Neely after he left a sick bed Friday to check reports that five copies of the transcript were being prepared instead of the three he ordered.

Earlier this week state Attorney General Thomas D. McBride threatened a Justice Department investigation into why a confidential document of the grand jurys deliberations was found in the public files of Quarter Sessions Court and therefore accessible to attorneys for defendants in the case.

Judge Neely ordered copies made only for the court, District Attorney Huette F. Dowling and Special Deputy Attorney General Vincent G. Panati.

The special grand jury made recommendations which resulted in indictments by a regular grand jury of 22 persons in an alleged multi-million dollar swindle of turnpike funds.

New Kensington Seeks Flood Relief Program

HARRISBURG (UP)—Dr. Maurice K. Goddard, state secretary of forests and waters, has promised a delegation of New Kensington city officials that his department will undertake a preliminary study this year to meet the area's flood problems.

The delegation, headed by Mayor Ray E. Gardlock, asked the secretary to take measures to prevent the flooding of Big Pucketos Creek, which has inundated the area about every two years since 1930.

Goddard told the officials at a meeting here Friday that the department staff is already committed to some 100 projects throughout the state, but he said he would act on the matter "as soon as humanly possible." He said the first necessary step is completion of a hydrological study of the area, which will be undertaken "in several months."

Goddard said no evaluation of the city's suggested plan to build a reservoir could be made until the completion of the sruvey. However he suggested that the city institute a flood zoning program, which will be required after June, 1958 in order to participate in the federal flood insurance program which pays 40 per cent of flood control construction.

At the end of the meeting, Mayor Gardlock said the city can only "sit patiently and wait."

Bloom Asking What Prompted Leader Remark

HARRISBURG (UP)—Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom today asked Gov. Leader "to disclose what prompted him suddenly to demand that state employes devote full time to their jobs."

"It should go without saying that anyone who is paid by the state on a full-time basis should work on the same basis and it shouldn't be necessary for the governor to remind the people under him of this unless he heard of widespread abuses," he said.

Bloom said if there have been widespread abuses the public is entitled to all the information the governor has concerning them.

"There must be some explanation for the 8,000 increase in the number of state employes which has taken place since Governor Leader took office at a cost of untold milliosn to the taxpayers," Bloom added.

Rarick Says Senate Is Aware of Corruption

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa. (UP) — Donald C. Rarick, McKeesport millworker opposing United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald in union elections next Tuesday, charged Friday night that the U.S. Senate was aware of corruption within the union.

Constantly heckled during his talk, Rarick said he had "access to information which would call for an open investigation" of the union.

Rarick charged "the U.S. Senate has found a lot of dirt and corruption within the union." But he urged that the union investigate itself instead of waiting for an outside group to conduct an inquiry.

The Dues Protest Committee candidate made the charge in reply to a question from the floor. One of the listeners challenged Rarick to turn over his charges of corruption within the USW to the Senate for investigation.

The candidate also repeated his charge that he had been offered a quarter of a million dollar bribe to withdraw his candidacy. He also said McDonald had offered him a job if he would drop out of the race.

A woman listener repeated a charge made earlier this week by two officials of a local in Reading that Rarick opposed a union shop. Rarick denied the accusation and said he had always believed in a union shop.

Rarick said he was willing to meet with McDonald to debate issues and submit their conversation to lie detector tests. He made this statement in response to a charge by McDonald who had labeled Rarick's bribe charge as "an unmitigated lie."

Rarick promised that if he were elected, dues would be returned to the $3-a-month rate in effect before a recent convention voted for a $2 a month increase.

BUDAPEST HOSPITAL COAL — Weapons poised, a Hungarian policeman and a workers' militiaman stands guard at a coal pile in Budapest. The coal was supplied by the Swiss International committee of the Red Cross, and is destined for heating hospitals. Nine thousands tons of coal are being hauled into the city each month.

Ex-Hungarian Ruler Suffers Fatal Attack

LISBON (UP)—Adm. Nicholas Horthy, former regent of Hungary, died today at his home in Estoril. He was 88.

Horthy died of a heart attack resulting from asthma.

The admiral ruled Hungary for 24 years until his abdiction in 1944. He saw his country virtually taken over by the Nazis, and, after his abdication, overrun by the Communists.

The last years of his life were spent in a modest villa at Estoril, near Lisbon, with a few members of his family. There he completed his memoirs entitled "My Life For Hungary."

Born June 18, 1868 of noble family, Horthy as a youth embarked on a brilliant naval career. After distinguishing himself as captain of several warships, he was made commander of the Austro-Hungarian Empire's fleet in 1918.

His political career began shortly thereafter, following collapse of the empire.

After an army revolt, he was invited to aid in the formation of a national government in Budapest. He was named minister of war in the government and on March 1, 1920, was elected regent.

Blow after blow befell both Horthy and Hungary during World War II.

His daughter died. He lost his aviator son, Stephen, and his son-in-law in mysterious air crashes that occurred within a week of each other.

Hungary was in a difficult geographical position. Its initial World War II policy of non-belligerency was thwarted by increasing financial pressure and threat of occupation from Berlin.

Finally, Hungary entered the war, joining Nazi troops on the Russian front.

In the autumn of 1944, Hungary sought an armistice. Horthy called on Hungarian troops to oust the Nazis from Hungarian soil. He was quickly taken into custody and spirited to Germany by the Gestapo.

In October, 1944, the Russians invaded Hungary.

In the spring of 1945, The U. S. 7th Army took Horthy into protective custody when it invaded Bavaria. He was later given full liberty and lived near Munich, Germany, until 1948.

Later he went to Portugal and joined the growing post-war colony of exiled royalty and other prominent figures.

Eight Cases of Alleged Fraud in Insurance Fund

HARRISBURG (UP)—State Attorney General Thomas D. McBride has disclosed that an investigation of the state Workmen's Insurance Fund has uncovered eight cases of alleged fraud totaling $250,000.

The investigation was started last Monday after the fund manager, Samuel G. Neff, supplied the Justice Department with "certain information" which McBride said indicated some employer subscribers to the fund were not paying the proper premiums.

McBride emphasized that neither Neff nor the fund itself was under investigation, and he actually acted on the request of Neff, a former state senator from Lawrence County.

The attorney general said the eight cases uncovered to date did not indicate the full extent of the alleged fraud. Four state troopers under deputy state police commissioner Lt. Col. A. F. Dahlstrom still are checking the fund files.

The Labor and Industry Department operates the fund which takes workmen's insurance policies rejected as poor risks by private companies. McBride said he was interested in determining which firms had not been paying their full share and to collect the money owed the fund.

PASSAIC, N.J. (UP)—Mrs. Ruth Li Brizzi telephoned police Friday to report she had driven home in an automobile resembling one owned by her sister, Irene. A police official told her: "Sneak back in the car. Be nice and careful. Take it back where you found it." It worked. There were no stolen auto complaints.

ELIZABETHTOWN, Pa. (UP)—An automobile carrying 10 teenagers collided head-on with a truck on Harrisburg Pike near here early today, killing three boys and seriously injuring four others, including two girls.

State Police said the auto, driven by Robert Pursell, 17, of Middletown, Pa., was traveling at excessive speed down a grade, failed to make a curve, and slammed into a truck loaded with bricks.

After hitting the truck, the car continued 80 feet to an embankment on the north side of the road, ripping the left front door open. Seven of the 10 teenagers were thrown out.

Killed instantly were Pursell and William Boyer, 18, also of Middletown. A third boy, Richard Tinker, 16, Highspire, died at the St. Joseph's Hospital of a fractured skull.

Eddie Fisher's Mother Named In Tax Lien

PHLADELPHIA (UP) — The Pennsylvania Department of Revenue Friday placed a lien against the mother and stepfather of singer Eddie Fisher for $86 63 in back sales taxes.

The lien against Max and Lena Stupp was among 65 filed against mercantile establishments for claims totaling more than $17,000 in a state crackdown against evasion of sales taxes.

The lien against the Stupps listed a market in the northeast section of Philadelphia as their place of business. But Stupp said he had not been in business at the address since March, 1955.

"I have paid all taxes due everyone and I owe no money," he said. "I have an accountant who has always handled these matters and I'll refer the matter to him," Stupp added.

Senate to Look at Union Practices

IN SPITE of the efforts of the more far-sighted leaders of the labor movement to prevent it, some of the power-fat tycoons of the unions are heading straight for a showdown with public opinion which they are dead certain to lose. As Lyle C. Wilson, the well informed Washington manager of the United Press, put it in a recent dispatch: "The stop-look-and-listen sign is up for organized labor in the United States."

It would have been more accurate, perhaps, for Mr. Wilson to have written that the sign is up for the professional leaders of unions, for it is hardly conceivable that the rights of working people to organize for the purpose of bargaining with their employers is in any jeopardy whatever.

Mr. Wilson went on in the above-mentioned dispatch to cite an analogy between the present attitude of such labor leaders as those of the Teamsters Union, headed by Dave Beck, and the attitude of certain Wall street operators a generation or so ago.

The Wall streeters, too, were engaging in some financial practices which, besides being downright crooked in many instances, were also flagrantly contemptuous of the public interest. And when a committee of the Senate undertook to investigate these practices with a view to correcting the abuses, the financial tycoons took the position that it was none of the Senate's concern — or the public's either — how they manipulated stock prices, pyramided holding companies, rigged commodity prices and utility rates, etc.

But in the showdown, the Senate won an impressive victory. And before the thing was over, the president of the New York Stock Exchange was in Sing Sing prison, the presidents of New York's two largest banks were forced to resign, one of them in abject disgrace and the other plainly identified as a person, in Mr. Wilson's words, "who had no business running a bank in the first place".

This is the handwriting that is on the wall for those who can read.

* * *

UNQUESTIONABLY there are serious abuses in the management of some labor unions. These range all the way from actual gangsterism (witness the acid-blinding of the racket-scourging reporter, Victor Riesel, by union goons) to some very peculiar methods of keeping books in union treasuries and welfare funds. There is also a good deal of high-living on the part of some top labor leaders who have succeeded virtually in shutting their rank-and-file members out of any say in the operation of their organizations.

Two years ago, Sen. Paul Douglas, Democrat, of Illinois, as good a friend as organized labor will ever have in Congress, was chairman of a subcommittee which took just a quick and superficial look at some union practices. And Senator Douglas reported that he found "shocking abuses such as embezzlement, collusion, kickbacks, exorbitant insurance charges . . . mismanagement, waste, extravagance, indifference, nepotism".

Clearly it is time for somebody to take a good hard look at the situation, just as such a look was called for in the case of Wall street. And the Senate has now established a special committee, headed by Senator McClellan of Arkansas, to take this look.

The McClellan committee would do well, obviously, to do its first investigating in those unions whose leaders are defying investigation.

One at a Time

GOVERNOR Leader makes a lot of common sense when he tells persons on the state payroll who hold other remunerative positions that they cannot let these other jobs interfere with the work they are supposed to be doing for the state. If they do, he says, they will have to quit one or the other.

The Governor has issued orders to the departments under his jurisdiction to enforce this policy immediately.

This is a matter about which politicians tend to become careless. In some quarters, in fact, a fellow is regarded as exceptionally astute if he can get his name on two or more public payrolls at the same time. And there is often little or no visible effort to give a dollar's worth of work for every dollar on the paycheck.

Governor Leader's dictum undoubtedly was inspired by the disclosures relative to a special unemployment compensation fund as supervised by former Secretary of Labor and Industry John R. Torquato, whom the Governor dismissed. It was revealed that numerous Torquato appointees are drawing regular salaries from this fund and doing little or no work. Some, in fact, had other full-time occupations and couldn't have done any work for the state had they so desired.

The Governor probably is right in his suspicion that similar practices exist in other state departments. Anyway, his order is just elementary good government.

Merry-Go-Round—

Saud's Visit Strains U. S. Guest Funds

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The State Department has had its problems in handling King Saud and his retinue. Some of the problems, such as the refusal of Mayor Robert Wagner of New York to greet the King, have been widely publicized. Most of them haven't.

Mr. Pearson

One problem, for instance, is purely budgetary. The State Department is restricted by Congress in the amount of money it can spend on entertaining foreign notables, and therefore has set a rule that chiefs of state cannot bring along more than 10 retainers. This was stretched to include 15 aides for President Sukarno of Indonesia, but the State Department's budget will not stretch to the point of King Saud's retinue of 70.

Therefore the Saudi Embassy, with an assist from the Arabian-American Oil Co., is picking up the check for the balance.

Saudi Arabia, not the United States, also paid for the King and his retinue's passage on the USS Constitution. When the King leaves, he will go by way of Europe and will be flown by a U. S. plane, though not the Columbine.

20 At Blair House

Twenty of the King's party are at Blair House, paid by the Government, and the rest at the Shoreham Hotel, paid by Aramco. The housekeeper at Blair House was only ready for a three-day visit by His Majesty and has really been sweating since Saud decided to spend his entire 10 days in Washington. Ten days, incidentally, is the unofficial limit on time a chief of state is supposed to remain at Government expense.

The King's change of plans also caused a sweat at the State Department. Originally, it was planned to take him on a tour of American factories and farms to impress him with modern America. But he said no. He was very positive on this point, said his two sons could make the inspection trip, that he would relax in a near-by palace. Hasily the State Department arranged for him to stay at the Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Then he changed his mind a second time and decided to remain in Washington. Blair House, across from the White House, was quite good enough.

The King's Lamb

Another minor problem for the State Department has been the procurement of the King's lamb. The King doesn't know it, but two-thirds of his lamb while in Washington has been purchased from either Jewish or Catholic wholesalers.

The District Hotel Supply Co., owned by Morris Kraft, supplied the top-grade saddles of lamb for the King's dinner at the Mayflower. The Southern Hotel Supply Co., owned by Thomas Keane, sold 12 loins of lamb and 30 ribs of top midwest beef to the Mayflower for another dinner.

The Columbia Hotel Supply, owned by Armour and Co., sold a lot of whole lambs to the White House for the King. A Government agent accompanied the shipment.

Another problem that worried the State Department was an earlier arrangement to have young Prince Mashhur treated at the Kessler Institute for Rehabilitation at West Orange, N. J., one of the leading institutions for treating crippled children. At the last minute, arrangements were canceled, because Henry Kessler, head of the Institute, is Jewish.

The State Department was not prompted by any distrust of Dr. Kessler, who it knew would treat the Moslem prince just as conscientiously as any other patient, but rather from the fear that King Saud would misunderstand if anything went wrong. The State Department itself knew that Arab children are given exactly the same treatment as Jewish children in the government hospitals of Israel.

Under the Dome

Barbershop singing was the main entertainment when President Eisenhower and Mamie entertained an elite group of the Supreme Court, Congress, and the diplomatic corps the other night. The program was given by the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Singing (SPEBS), and included "Minnie the Mermaid," "Back Home in Indiana," "Carolina in the Morning," and "Waiting for the Robert E. Lee." Ike, an alumnus of West Point quartets, seldom sings at the White House but likes to see his guests join in . . . There are few "silent" men left in Congress. One, however, is GOP Rep. William R. Williams, of Cassville, N. Y., a former sheriff, a fourth-termer who boasts that he "has never made a speech in Congress and probably never will." He raises potatoes and is known to colleagues as "Potato Bill." His district, however, is better known for its cheese . . . Congresswoman Edith Green of Oregon has been raiding the staffs of present and retired senators to build up an experienced team in her office. She has hired Herbert Beaser, Betty Herbner, and Nan Burgess, formerly with Senators Lehman, George and Morse, respectively.

Today and Tomorrow—

The Politics of the U. N.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The American position in the United Nations has become very difficult, especially during the past year. We find ourselves relying more than at any time in the past on the competence and the capacity of the United Nations to deal with great issues — as in Eastern Europe and in the Middle East. When we say the United Nations, we really mean the General Assembly of 80 nations which is now the central organ of that institution. In this General Assembly, since the admission of so many new members from Africa and Asia, we can no longer count, as once we could, on a working majority who agree with us.

Mr. Lippmann

From this fundamental weakness come the confusions, the equivocations, the double standards of the U.S.'s dealings with the Soviet Union over Hungary, with India over Kashmir, with Britain, France and Israel over Suez and Gaza and the Gulf of Aqaba. The fundamental and controlling fact is that the paramount power in the United Nations rests in the General Assembly, and that in the General Assembly there is no effective majority which is willing to apply the same rule of law to the Soviet Union, India, Britain, France, Egypt, and Israel.

Many Blocs

The General Assembly consists of blocs, and American foreign policy is in very large measure determined by the desire to have the United States play a leading part in a combination of blocs which will yield a majority when the votes are counted. We are acting on the official belief that we must not be pushed into the opposition within the United Nations, that we must participate in the ruling majority.

The mathematics of our problems are worth fixing in mind. The General Assembly has 80 members. But since South Africa and Hungary are absent, there are now in fact 78 members. On any important question a two-thirds majority is needed, which means 52 votes.

Now what is the maximum number of votes that we can hope to rally on an issue which is of prime importance to the Western world? There are 21 inter-American states, all of the Western Hemisphere south of the Canadian border. There are in Western Europe, plus at a stretch Yugoslavia, plus the so-called old commonwealth — Canada, Australia and New Zealand — 20 votes. These add up to 41 votes, which is 11 short of the required majority.

Where is Mr. Lodge, who is the official who has to struggle with the situation for the United States, to find the necessary 11 votes? There are ten Soviet votes and there are 11 Arab votes that he cannot get. That makes 21 votes that he cannot get and it takes only 27 votes — one more than one-third of all votes — to veto any proposal the United States makes.

Balance of Power

There is still one more bloc of 15 votes, and it holds the balance of power. This is the Afro-Asian bloc. In it we can count fairly reliably on four votes, the Philippines, Thailand, Pakistan and Nationalist China. But, as we have seen, we need 11 votes to get a majority. So we are still short seven votes. These we have to obtain by bargaining with India, in plain fact by working out compromises with Mr. Krishna Menon.

This means that the United States, working loyally through the U.N. can on the crucial issues take no positive or affirmative position to which Mr. Menon is seriously opposed. We cannot stand up for what we think is right and just unless we are willing, which we are not, to have a show-down which proves to the world that we are no longer a part of the effective and ruling majority of the United Nations.

This situation means that on the hard issues the General Assembly can vote resolutions only on one of two conditions. One is that the United States induced the Western blocs to vote with the Arab, Soviet and Afro-Asian blocs. The first of the resolutions passed last week, the one calling for the withdrawal of Israel to its old frontiers, is an example.

Vague Differences

The other condition of agreement in the General Assembly is that the real differences between the Westerners and Easterners are befogged to the point where none of the blocs is publicly committed to anything specific. The second resolution, which appears to deal with the substantial issues in Palestine, is an example of an agreement by deliberate equivocation.

What goes on behind this equivocation? What goes on is secret diplomacy — the only kind of diplomacy that has the remotest chance of working in the conflicts of the Middle East. The General Assembly is a place where nobody can afford to stand up in public and resonable. He will be regarded at home as a traitor.

It has, therefore, become necessary in practice to circumvent the General Assembly by letting it speak ambiguously, and then be silent, while secretly and quietly things are talked over in private, perhaps even agreed to in private, that could never be discussed in public. This, at least, is the experiment on which we are now embarked, and we must wish it well.

Ten persons have been killed in automobile accidents in the Monongahela Valley in the last 11 weeks, almost one fatality for every week, a checkup by the Daily Independent revealed today.

Hot summer days are probably called "dog days" because they occur when Sirius, the dog star, rises in conjunction with the sun.

Americans ate 160 pounds of beef per person during 1955. That is the highest consumption per person since 1908.

About Pills, Dinners And a 'Captain's Chair'

By HARRY R. PORE, Jr.

The pharmaceutical business, no less than the medical profession, is making some truly amazing contributions to the solution of human problems, both individual and collective.

I see now where a drug manufacturer has invented a pill — one of these "tranquillizers" — which is specifically designed to offset "occupational stress" induced by the newspaper business. The literature which is put out with this pill says:

"It is reported to be useful in the journalistic and advertising field with its tension, excitement and noisy environment."

Of course, those of us who have been mixed up (I use the expression advisedly) in the newspaper business have always been more or less aware that there was something wrong with us. In fact, some respected authorities think it helps.

But we didn't know that it was something that could be fixed with a pill.

As soon as these things come on the market, I think we will put a supply beside the drinking fountain here at The Independent alongside the salt pills which our progressive management provides during the summer months in lieu of air conditioning. The trouble, I suspect, will be to keep the anti-stress pills away from those members of our staff who are more in need of being fired up than fired down.

Speaking of pills, I have long enjoyed a counter display in a certain drug store here on Sixth street. The customer will find arrayed, side by side, bottles full of pills which the label says will keep him awake and alert and bottles of other pills which will put him to sleep.

Somehow or other, I think a civilization which can make pills like this is bound to prevail in what is called the "struggle for the minds of men".

The "Season" Is On

I've been enjoying the accounts of the White House social "season" which started last month. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower seem to be doing their best to make up to Washington society the lack of a "season" last year while the President was recovering from his operation.

These affairs consist, it seems, of a reception followed by a state dinner of several courses at which the White House staff must do its level best to demonstrate that this is the most powerful nation on earth.

The food is followed by entertainment, usually consisting of music which is fairly highbrow.

This pattern was varied, however, at the dinner for Vice President and Mrs. Nixon the other evening. On this occasion the music was furnished by the District of Columbia Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

I'm sure this is going to lead to complications, as if Mr. Nixon's career wasn't already complicated enough. Aren't the Eisenhowers going to have to provide "equal time", possibly at the reception for retired Army buglers, to the Society for the Suppression and Discouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing Anywhere? Being fair-minded people, Ike and Mamie must realize that there are two sides to this question.

That "Captain's Chair"

Some weeks ago reference was made in one of these Saturday stints to an antique "captain's chair" the purchase of which, in the raw state, the writer had negotiated during a vacation in Vermont last summer. It was mentioned that the transaction was made in rather unbusinesslike fashion with the seller issuing no receipt and the buyer trusting to traditional New England scruples the faithful performance of the contract.

In response to the inquiries of several readers, I report that the chair arrived in due course, in acceptable condition and has been in use. Indeed, if some of these pieces have spoken with more authority of late, it could be because the editorial substructure has been upheld during the process of composition by a chair designed for a captain.

Some readers, however, may be aware that "captain's chairs" were sometimes also known as "tavern chairs" or "bar chairs". But then, come to think of it, that still could explain some of the articles which appear here each Saturday. Like this one for instance.

In the Open—

Groundhog not Really A Weather Forecaster

By JOHN H. DAY

The only groundhog I ever saw on Groundhog Day gazed back at me from the pages of a roto section, his prophetic countenance surrounded by journalistic tributes to his prowess as a weather seer. All the groundhogs of my acquaintance sleep entirely too soundly to wake up on a February day, no matter what inducements. I once came across a sorry-looking woodchuck frozen stiff at the entrance to his burrow, while biting winds sent cold drifts of snow crystals hurtling across the hillside. This fellow had evidently been stuck down by disease and had come upstairs to die.

Probably the groundhog's greatest claim to fame is his ability to go to sleep in the fall before cold weather and not wake up until the spring has again brought out the green things for his delectation. Mr. Wardle's fat boy from Dickens' immortal pages never slept as the woodchuck sleeps, however well he matched his eating. When the sun of October swings low in the south, and he has become so fat that he seems to roll to and fro from his burrow on casters, he retires to his snuggest chamber, tucks his nose in between his little black-gloved forepaws, and goes to sleep.

The groundhog is without doubt one of the founders of vegetarianism. He added inches to his girth when he learned that red clover which the early settlers kindly brought with them had a nourishing quality that defies competition. He can get so fat on clover that when he retires for the year he is as near a complete globe as anything with feet and a fact can ever be. He can get no fatter than that on garden truck, but he likes it better.

'Supervises' Garden

One year when I had projected a rather ambitious garden plot a groundhog moved in to supervise. In early dawn, when the dew was on the lettuce he would take his toll of the bed, seasoning it with a radish and a snip at a leaf or two of parsley. These were mere appetizers for the feast. His next course was the peas. He would go down a row and eliminate everything but a stubble of tough butts that had been shorn of their ladylike and smiling greenness.

These eating chores were his occupation, his day's work, so to speak, and he went at them at the first blink of dawn and got them off his mind. Then he retired to his burrow just on the corner of the garden before either the sun or I got up and slept the dreamless sleep of one who has labored righteously and fed well. I suspect him of letting out his belt a hole a day on the plethora of proteins I had been coaxing along all spring.

The only time the groundhog really works is when he is digging his burrow. Apparently this is a distasteful task and he wants to get it over as soon as possible, for he makes the dirt fly until it is done. When his den is dug out, he'll often escape by burrowing off through the soil like a mole, managing somehow to avoid suffocation.

Precisely at 11 a. m. on February 2 the grizzled whistlepig is supposed to shake off the grogginess of his long sleep and crawl out of his cozy burrow to blink his weather eye and give his down-to-earth prediction on winter's chance of keeping a grip on things. What he don't know about the weather would fill a lot of books. It may be, as the radio thriller has it, that "the shadow knows." Of course, if there's no shadow, nobody knows.

Mistaken Identity

Actually the groundhog as a weather seer is neither an impostor nor a hoax, but a plain case of mistaken identity. The early settlers had long associated the Candlemas Day legend with a different animal — the European hedgehog. When they got over here the nearest thing they could find to the familiar creature they had known back home was the woodchuck. So the whistlepig had to accept an appointment he didn't seek and has never been able to reject.

Part of the summer scene is the occasional sight of the 'chuck sunning before his den, or foraging in his favored clover patch. These first days of February would be drab indeed had we not the Groundhog Day legend. Say's Riley's farm boy, to whom fell the onerous task of keeping the wood box filled: "Nothin' ever made me madder

"Nothin' ever made me madder
Than for Pap to stomp in, layin'
On a' extra forestick, sayin'
'Groun' hog's out and seed his shadder!"

Big Six Principals Making Good Move

Principals at Mon Valley schools have taken a step in the right direction with their decision to draft a formal constitution for the Big Six Football Conference. For the past 32 seasons, the Conference has operated without rules, simply because no disputes ever arose. Most of the leadership has been supplied by valley sportswriters, who each year have seen to it that an All-Conference team was selected and that the championship eleven received a suitable trophy. In recent years, the sportswriters have also staged a huge banquet to give the Big Six even more noteriety. Now the schoolmen have agreed to assume control and the league should be stronger as a result.

* * *

Incidentally the principals might be wise to adopt a policy on the matter of All-Star teams. The newly-formed Tri-County Conference has included a system for picking All-Star teams right in the constitution. (That All-Star eleven will be chosen by the players, themselves, on the basis of their voting for all-opponent teams.) The Big Six constitution should include a similar clause. Personally we'd like to see All-Star teams scrapped altogether. But since a vast majority of fans seem to want them, we suppose the principals have no choice but to figure out a selection scheme . . . And if they're interested, we know of at least one reporter who wants off the hook when it comes to picking future teams.

Three Men Apply for MHS Coaching Job

Reportedly three men have applied for the baseball coaching vacancy at Monessen High. That spot may be filled at the School Board meeting next Tuesday . . . The Pennsylvania State ski championships, sponsored by the Laurel Mountain Ski Club, will be held at Ligonier next Saturday and Sunday . . . Apparently the good fans up Redstone way are pleased with the work of football-basketball coach Joe Bosnic. At any rate, they plan a testimonial in his honor next month . . . The Monessen-Monongahela Junior High basketball game postponed recently has been rescheduled for the MHS gym on February 20.

Masontown and Pt. Marion school districts have already formed a jointure, but no team will represent the new school until a swank building is completed in a year or so. The new WPIAL entry will be known as Albert Gallatin High. The enrollment will be enough to earn a Class A sports rating for the district . . . Pitt's fine team of last season will lose no less than 15 lettermen through graduation this June. Among those picking up degrees will be Bob Rosborough, the former Donora High grid great.

Expect No Action on Jr. High Protests

Despite all those reports of protests and counter protests, chances are last Tuesday's Vernon-Carroll Junior High dispute will never get to the Junior WPIAL Decisions Committee. Reportedly Carroll officials had planned to protest the one-point loss on grounds that the game wasn't properly timed. Now a story leaks out that Vernon is ready to file a counter protest, charging that Carroll has used an ineligible player. If so, the Puppies could claim credit for an earlier setback at Carroll. At the moment, Junior WPIAL officials have decided to take no action, permitting the "contestants" to cool a little.

Jackson Rides Cycle To Tune up for Champ

By JACK GUDDY

— NEW YORK (UP) —Facts and figures from the sports beat:

Heavyweight challenger Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson is riding a bicycle every day near his home at St. Albans, N. Y., to keep in trim for his expected title fight with champion Floyd Patterson at Yankee Stadium in June. He will meet no other opponents before Patterson. He promised today, "I won't do any bicycling in the ring that night."

Eddie Brannick, genial secretary of the New York Giants, said today he figured Cincinnati is the club to beat in the National League this year "if it gets fair relief pitching." He stressed that the Redlegs are "very powerful" at the plate. Milwaukee, Brooklyn and St. Louis are the other threats, he said.

Records More Authentic

Frank Lane, Cardinal general manager, is still plugging his idea for games between teams in both leagues during the regular season. Some critics of the plan claim it would wipe out current American and National League records. "So what," says Lane, "it would certainly make all new major league records more authentic."

Doug Ford, former Professional Golf Assn. champion, who won only $19,389 during the entire year in 1956, earned $9,000 in the first 10 days of 1957. The big bit was $7,000 in the Los Angeles Open, and the rest was from three smaller tourneys. He says it's the first time he was able to win well on the winter tour.

No Legal Betting

The Hambletonian Stakes, the "Kentucky Derby" of trotting, probably will attract the largest crowd in its history when it is renewed at the DuQuoin (Ill) Fair, Aug. 27. But there will be no legal betting on the classic. Illinois state laws prohibit betting at fairs.

Marty Marion, ex-Chicago White Sox manager, and his St. Louis business associate, Milton Fleischmann, are determined to own a club in the National Basketball Association, it seems, and they appear to be pointing toward Kansas City as their site. They will be unable to purchase a franchise before the 1957-58 season, and accordingly would have to pay the league an entry fee running to six figures and then start scratching for eligible players.

Giants Sign Two Players

By UNITED PRESS

The New York Giants today announced the signing of pitcher Steve Ridzik and outfielder Bob Lennon, leaving the club only five more players to go before it can claim everyone is in.

Ridzik, used mostly in relief, had a 6-2 record last season, while Lennon batted .266 with Minneapolis of the American Association.

The Red Sox signed their entire coaching staff, Paul Schreiber, Del Baker, Dave Ferriss and Jack Burns, while the Dodgers signed southpaw pitcher Thomas Donovan to a Montreal contract. Brooklyn also announced it has invited Jim Koranda, with Fort Worth last year, to its Vero Beach Fla., training camp.

Koranda played the outfield with Fort Worth but will be converted into a catcher

Ozarks List Tourney Dates

'57 Show To Begin March 19

The Monessen Ozarks Athletic Club today announced dates for its annual basketball tournament.

The 1957 show will begin March 19 at the Monessen High gym. Other tourney dates will be March 21,23,25,27,and 29.

As usual, the tournament will be divided into two divisions. The Junior Division will be for teams with an 18 year age limit.

Absolutely no professionals will be permitted to take part, according to tourney director Tony Mascetta.

Application blanks are now available throughout the valley. They may be secured in the city at the Monessen Sport Shop and Fuocos Atlantic Station.

Entry Fee

The entry fee will be the same as last year: $20 for senior teams, and $12.50 for junior quints.

The Ozarks will again present a whole flock of awards in addition to the huge championship trophies.

A new wrinkle will be added this year. The Ozarks hope to have a well-known sports celebrity as their guest each night of the tourney.

An elaborate program book is also being prepared. It will include pictures of last year's champions.

Once again, the sponsoring Ozarks plan to sell tourney tickets to both adults and students. Prices will be announced later.

Star-Studded

According to Mascetta, the Ozarks anticipate another star-studded field.

"As was the case last season, we plan to strive for quality more than quantity," he said.

Winning the junior division title last year was a team comprised of Charleroi High players. The senior division crown went to a Brownsville - sponsored quint made up of West Virginia University basketball grads.

Top Schoolboy Fives Running into Trouble

By UNITED PRESS

Some of the first half league winners are encountering plenty of trouble in the second round of the schoolboy basketball season.

Scranton Central, Nesquehoning and St. Clair—all winners of first half league titles—are trailing in the second round and will probably face playoffs before they can apply for entry blanks to the post-season state championship tournaments.

Old Forge handed Scranton Central its first loss of the year in the Lackawanna League, 58-47. The Blue Devils finished second in the first half race but it looks like that league finish will be reversed this round.

Nesquehoning, conqueror of Kingston in the opening game of the second round in the Wyoming Valley League, kept on the right track by hammering Wilkes-Barre G.A.R. 72-49.

Kane pulled up to a tie with Clearfield for the lead in the District Nine League by overpowering DuBois, 46-40. Bradford's 62-44 win over Brookville kept it in the race a step behind the leaders.

Icing on Cake

Altoona's 68-40 romp over Punxsutawney was so much icing on the cake since the Mountain Lions became the first team in the state to clinch a place in the state championship playoffs by downing Renovo earlier in the week. Altoona plays an independent schedule and must win only a certain percentage of its games to qualify for the District Six playoffs.

Greenburg's loss to Latrobe was the major surprise in the WPIAL. When Latrobe won, 77-60, Greenburg was shoved out of a first place deadlock in Section Two. Uniontown held first place after its 76-46 thumping of Jeannette.

A second shocker was Ford City's 53-50 victory over defending state champion Farrell.

McKeesport, Sharon and Charleroi, three of the major powerhouses of District Seven, continued to lead their respective sections after rolling to easy victories. Charleroi swamped Brownsville, 82-52; Sharon bounced Aliquippa, 51-43, and Mckeesport vaulted over Munhall, 85-71.

Chester's 75-66 clouting of Haverford kept the Clippers in the van of Section One of the Philadelphia Suburban League. Springfield racked up its 13th straight victory in the Bux-Mont League by overwhelming Souderton, 85-51.

Deadlocked for Lead

Reading and Steelton are deadlocked for the top spot in the Central Penn second half. Reading, the first half king, walloped Lebanon, 62-42, as Steelton surprised Harrisburg John Harris, 61-56.

The South Penn League second round developed into a three-way stalemate among Hanover's first half kings, Carlisle, and Mechanicsburg. Hanover winged Chambersburg, 83-73, Carlisle had no trouble beating Waynesboro, 84-63, and Mechanicsburg lashed Shippensburg, 58-34.

Bloomsburg's hard fought 52-48 win over Northumberland pushed the Susquehanna Valley first half champs into a tie with Lewisburg for the second half lead.

Earlier this week Hollidaysburg tucked away the first round banner of the Mountain League by downing Lewistown in a playoff, 52-42.

Portage and Allentown added another notch to their unbeaten strings. Allentown ripped Pottsville 73-61 and Portage rolled over Richland, 70-49.

Meadville and Erie Strong Vincent continued to make a shambles of their respective sections in District 10. Both are unbeaten in their respective circuits. Friday night Strong Vincent outlasted Erie Tech, 72-66, as Meadville trampled Titusville, 79-54.

Bellmar Turns Back Donora High, 62-58

Bellmar High's unpredictable basketballers upset visiting Donora last night, 62-58, in a Section 5 thriller at the winners floor.

The Canes lagged 16-12 at the end of the first period and 28-25 at intermission.

However they began to cut away at the lead in the third period and eventually moved in front midway in the final stanza.

Bob Beggs, playing one of his finest games of the season, tossed in 17 points for the Canes, John Hewitt chipped in with 15.

For the visitors, high-scoring Dave Russell lived up to his press notices by tossing in 31 points. Angelo Dabiero chipped in with 12.

Bosseler Signs With Washington

WASHINGTON (UP)—Don Bosseler, the University of Miami star fullback who gained nearly 2,000 yards running in three years, has signed a two year professional contract with the Washington Redskins. Bosseler, who lives in Batavia, N.Y., was the Redskins' No. 1 draft choice.

Charleroi Rips Brownies, 82-52, In Section 5 Play

Charleroi High's powerful Cougars all but assured the Section 5 basketball title last night by overpowering Brownsville, 82-52, at the losers floor.

That lop-sided win kept the Charleroians a game and a half in front of second place Monessen.

Coach Henry Pennline's cagers were hot, converting 47 per cent of their fie'd goal attempts.

Ollie Payne led the way with 21 points. Myron Pottios chipped in with 17.

Bernie Hovan was high for Brownsville with 14 points. High scoring Bob Chuey was limited to 11 tallies.

Ortega Favored Over De Marco

BOSTON (UP)—Second - ranked Gaspar Ortega of Mexico ruled a slight (10-8) favorite to whip Tony DeMarco for the third straight time tonight and bounce the pride of Boston right out of the welterweight picture.

The scheduled 10-rounder at the Garden was neither televised nor broadcast but it has picked up so much public enthusiasm the past week that a gate of $40,000-$60,000 was expected.

The elusive, durable Mexican assumed the favorite's role on the basis of his two previous televised victories over the former welterweight champion in New York. DeMarco backers were counting on the familiar surroundings of home and the belief Tony will be at his hungry, fighting best since he'll be "going for broke" in this bout.

DeMarco's reputation, ranking, and perhaps some of his punching power, have slipped considerably since he ruled the welters and another loss tonight would also cut his earning power.

Hounds Coast to Win After Piling Up Safe Lead

Monessen High's fast-moving basketballers had no trouble beating California in Section 5 play last night even though the final score was a modest 60-55.

That narrow margin reflected the mercy of MHS Coach Frank Janosik.

As a matter of fact, it looked for awhile as though the veteran Greyhound boss was being too "nice".

With his team ahead, 49-29, after three periods, Janosik pulled his regulars.

Early in the fourth period, Monessen hiked the advantage to 53-29.

Refuse to Quit

However the home team refused to quit. The Trojans employed a press in which they scored 12 straight points to narrow the gap to 53-41.

Still pressing, the Trojans made it 55-47 with two minutes to play. It was then that Janosik sent back his regulars to preserve the victory.

Monessen had led all the way through the game, which started in low gear. Full five minutes passed before Dick DiBiaso tossed in the first fielder of the contest.

From then on, the sharp-shooting Hounds had their way. That is, up until the closing moments.

Frank Crisi led the Monessen scoring with 15 points. DiBiaso chipped in with 14, while Mathieu and Crawley also hit double figures with 11 and 10 points respectively.

Kulak High

For the losers, Ken Kulak tallied 17 points, making 13 in the final period splurge. Ewing Bell helped out with 14 tallies.

Statistically, Monessen hit on 24 61 field goal attempts for solid 39 per cent accuracy. California connected on 22 of 62 for 35 per cent gunning.

The win gave Monessen a 7-2 record in league play and a 12-7 slate over the season.

Leps Have Four More Field Goals But Home Team Cashes in on Fouls

A last period rally fell a basket short last night as Rostraver dropped a 57-55 decision at Ligonier.

The setback practically erased all hopes for the Leps in Section 10 play this season. They now trail Derry by two games in the all-important loss column.

Rostraver started on the wrong foot, permitting Ligonier to rush off to a a 17-8 lead in the initial period.

At intermission, the Leps still trailed, 29-26.

Ligonier spurted again in the third period to draw away at 47-33. That set the stage for a fourth period Rostraver rally which almost turned the trick.

Haten Leads Leps

Reginald Haten led the Leps with 18 points. For Ligonier, Williams had 17.

Rostraver, oddly enough, made four more fielders than the winners. However the Leps hit on just seven of 19 foul tries while Ligonier cashed in on 17 of 34.

In the Jayvee game, Rostraver came out on top, 40-30.

Only One WPIAL Leader Loses

By UNITED PRESS

North Allegheny, deprived of the services of its top pointmaker, was dumped from the ranks of the unbeaten Friday night, but all other undefeated WPIAL teams came through with victories to retain their status and pad their sectional leads.

Moon High upset North Allegheny leader in Section 9-A, 35-31, on the losers' court. The losers, pre-game favorites to rack up their 10th consecutive divisional win, were without the services of their star, Dick Good, who injured an ankle earlier in the week.

The seasoned Sharon Bengals continued their drive in Section 3-A by routing Aliquippa, 51-43, for their 18th straight victory. Meanwhile, Farrell, last season's divisional winner and state champion, was trimmed by Ford City, 53-50, in a non-league game.

The big Class B powers, Wampum in Section 20 and Shannock Valley in Section 21, extended their long winning streaks. The Wampum Indians walloped Shenango, 76-37, for their 44th consecutive section triumph and Shannock Valley defeated Washington Twp., 54-50, for its 26th straight.

The other unbeaten:

Class A: Mt. Lebanon, 4; Charleroi, 5; McKeesport 6; Scott 7; Monaca, 8;

Class B: Snowden, 14, McDonald, 15; Aspinwall, 19.

Frank Scores 42 Points as Tech Tops Thiel

By UNITED PRESS

Center Alan Frank set an all-time Carnegie Tech individual basketball scoring record Friday night in leading the Tartans to a 90-54 victory over Thiel.

Frank scored 42 points, 14 in the last six minutes, to erase the old school mark of 34 points scored by current Tech coach Cratsley in a game 20 years ago and equalled by Tom Craig in the 1952-53 season.

Carnegie registered its sixth victory against 11 defeats while Thiel's record is 4-6.

In the only other Western Pennsylvania college game Friday night, California defeated Edinboro on the losers' court, 74-67.

Victories have been scarce for both teams. It was California's second triumph of the season against 14 losses. Their other victory also was over Edinboro.

Edinboro, with a 1-10 record, had the top scorer in Walt Askins, who accounted for 35 points, more than half his team's total.

Tonight's schedule: Youngstown at Westminster; Waynesburg at Geneva; Steubenville at Alliance; St. Vincent at Clarion; Lock Haven at Indiana; Grove City at Washington & Jefferson; California at Slippery Rock; Allegheny at Edinboro.

Delany Clashes With Tabori In Mile Event

NEW YORK (UP) — Ireland's Ron Delany is the favorite, but the speed is up to Hungary's Laszlo Tabori tonight at the Millrose Games at Madison Square Garden in history's first indoor clash of four-minute milers.

The Delany-Tabori duel in the Wanamaker Mile is expected to share the Millrose spotlight with a half-mile battle between Arnie Sowell and Tomy Courtney before a capacity crowd.

The way the stopwatch experts see it dark-haired Delany, the Olympic 1,500 meter champion who wears the colors of Villvanoa University, should win the featured mile run to remain unbeaten on boards. But sharp-faced Ron runs only fast enough to win, sprinting past the pacemakers at the end.

So it's figured that Tabori, who like Delany ha run the mile in 3:59.0 outdoors, will have to set a swift pace if tonight's race is to be any faster than Delany's winning effort of 4:07.5 in Boston last week in the Boston AA mile.

Tabori, one of the Hungarian stars who refused to return to his afflicted homeland after the Olympics, has yet to win a race or show his best form in the indoor season. But he has been training well for his New York debut and looks for a fast race.

Courtney, the Army PFC from Fordham who won the Olympic 800 meter crown, never has beaten Sowell of Pittsburgh on boards in even meetings. Husky Tom is anxious to do that tonight, so much that he switched to the half-mile from the 600-yard run in which he equalled the world indoor record last week.

With Delany the pick in the mile and Sowell-Courtney a toss-up in the half-mile, here are the favorites in the other top Millrose events: 60-yard dash—Ira Murchison; 60-yard high hurdles — Calhoun; 600 yard run—Charley Jenkins; two-mile run—Fred Dwyer; pole vault — Richards; high jump —Phil Reavis.

Free-for-All After Ellwood Defeats Ambridge

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa. (UP)—A basketball game between Ellwood City and Ambridge high schools erupted in a free-for-all Friday night when an Ellwood City player was slugged as the final whistle blew.

Police were called to the Ellwood City gym and quickly restored order. Later, they escorted the Ambridge team to its bus.

The disturbance, involving players and about 50 or 60 spectators, erupted when Joe Lucci of Ambridge struck Ron Hughes of Ellwood City. Hughes was knocked down and apparently hit his head on the gym floor.

Hughes was admitted to Ellwood City Hospital with a slight concussion and shock. His condition was satisfactory.

After the incident, the Ambridge coaches and faculty manager went to the home team's dressing room and "begged a complete apology."

The game, won by Ellwood City, 55-53, was hotly contested and marked by several verbal exchanges — particularly between Lucci and Hughes.

Ambridge, which has had a poor season, was leading by 11 points with five minutes remaining in the game. The home team then surged with a rally in which most of the points were scored by Hughes.

As soon as the whistle blew, Lucci struck Hughes.

Martinez Rallies to Beat Courchesne

NEW YORK (UP)—Isidro (Issi) Martinez, young Panama southpaw, gets a shot at a featherweight contender in Madison Square Garden, March 15, because he climbed off the Garden canvas Friday night and came on to stop Bobby Courchesne in the 10th round.

According to matchmaker Billy Brown, the March opponent probably will be seventh-ranking Gil Cadilli of San Francisco or Flash Elorde of the Philippines, No. 8.

Martinez, fast and rangy, weighed 129 pounds to 129½ for Courchesne of Holyoke, Mass., for their TV-radio fight in which he made his Garden debut and his 2nd U.S. appearance.

The 22-year-old Panamanian, floored for the first time in his professional career in the second round, came on with his long left smashes to batter Courchesne into such bloody helplessness that Referee Mark Conn awarded Issi a technical knockout at 32 seconds of the tenth.

UCLA Keeps Alive Long Winning Streak

By JOHN GRIFFIN

Thanks to a successful stall for the last minute and 28 seconds, UCLA's winning streak in the Pacific Coast Conference reached 23 games today and the Bruins remained tied with California for the loop lead.

But something has to give soon in one of the hottest basketball races in the country, perhaps tonight when each of the co-leaders tries for a second victory in two nights.

UCLA, ranked fifth nationally, extended its loop winning string Friday night with a comeback 68-65 victory over Washington at Seattle while California, ranked 12th, was downing Oregon State in easier style, 73-60. Each now has a 7-0 league record and will meet the same foe tonight.

Team Effort Successful

A team effort paid off for UCLA to offset two brilliant individual efforts for Washington Friday night — 22 points by Doug Smart and 21 by Bruno Boin.

Kentucky, the nation's No. 3 team, survived a bad scare at Memphis, Tenn., to beat Mississippi, 75-69, for its 17th win in 20 games. The Wildcats were trailing by seven with 11 minutes left when Vern Hatton entered the game and scored two quick baskets to spark a Kentucky rally. Hatton had 14 points in the 11 minutes he played, but Joe Gibbon of Mississippi took game scoring honors with 29 points.

Wake Forest, ranked 15th nationally, rebounded from its upset by South Carolina the previous night to rout Clemson, 93-72. led by Ernie Wiggins' 27 points and converting 37 of 44 free throw tries. Syracuse, ranked 17th nationally, also had no trouble in trouncing Holy Cross, 82-66.

Sooners Beat A&M

In other leading games Friday night: Sophomore Richard Anderson's layup with four seconds left gave Oklahoma a 57-55 victory over Oklahoma A&M; Citadel beat VMI, 78-70, in the Southern Conference as six-three Art Musselman scored 22; Siena upset Army, 68-62; Dayton crushed Villanova, 102-70; and Stanford sank 26 of 33 free throws to beat Washington State, 60-51.

Tonight, top-ranked North Carolina, recently depleted of reserve strength by academic troubles, faces a severe test in Duke; second-ranked Kansas visits Nebraska; fourth-ranked Southern Methodist visits Texas Tech; and fifth-ranked UCLA again will be at Washington.

Sharing the spotlight with important league games will be the hot competition for the national scoring lead. All three leading contenders will be in action—Chet (The Jet) Forte of Columbia (30.1 points per game) vs. Navy; Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain (29.8) of Kansas vs. Nebraska; and Grady Wallace (29.4) of South Carolina vs. North Carolina State.

Here Is How to Use That New Freezer Right

If you are one of those fortunate persons who purchased a Frigidaire from the Monessen Plumbing & Electric Co., 535-537 Donner avenue, then here's some good advice on how to use it properly.

Some women lose much of the convenience and some of the efficiency of a food freezer by failing to use it properly. Here is some advice on package food for the freezer:

1. Always choose cartons and wrappings that are moisture-proof and vapor-proof, easy to handle, seal and label. Materials should be flexible and strong enough to withstand handling at zero degrees.

2. Wrap all food tightly. "Freezer-burn" which appears as frost or grayish-white spots on frozen food, is caused by air pockets that are left between the product and the wrapping material. If containers are used they should be filled to the recommended mark — usually one-half inch from the top for solids, one inch from the top for liquids.

3. For convenience each package should be labeled with the date of storage, kind of food and when necessary, weight or quantity.

4. Use only table-ripe vegetables of fruits that are at the peak of maturity.

5. Fruit should be packaged in meal-size quantities, so there will be no left-overs. Defrosted frozen fruits loses its palatability if left standing several hours, and it should never be re-frozen. It is especially important for fruits to be packaged in containers that are leak-proof, firm, moisture—and vapor-proof.

6. Fruits that are to be used primarily for pies, jellies or preserves can be wahed and frozen in dry packs without sugar or syrup. Fruits can also be frozen in a dry sugar pack or in a syrup pack.

7. Meats should be wrapped immediately after cutting, to prevent loss of juice and flavor.

8. When sheet material or plastic bags are used in packaging, use a box or pan as a form until the wrapped product is frozen solid. When the form is removed it leaves a regular-shaped and easily-stored package.

9. Keep small food packages in one large nylon bag. It makes them easier to find.

10. Freeze foods in meal-sized amounts to avoid de-frosting foods that cannot be re-frozen.

Death tries to break, but all in vain,
To have, to hold and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart
The years will wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never.
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
Sadly missed by her son, Gustave J. Golit, Jr.

In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mary Madzey Golit, who passed away February 9, 1954.
For a few short years God made you ours,
To have, to love, to hold.
Those few short years when you were ours,
Left memories etched in gold.
Some may think we forget you
When at times we seem to smile,
Little do they know our sorrow
That the smile hides all the while.
We think of you in silence
No one can see us weep,
But many silent tears are shed
While others are asleep.
Some day we know that we shall meet
Upon God's golden shore
And when you take our hand in yours
Then we shall weep no more.
Sadly missed by daugher, Marie, Son-in-law, Paul, Grandchildren, Paul, Jr. and Patricia

In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Mrs. Fannie Vigliotti Slokas, who died three years ago tomorrow, February 10, 1954
They say time heals all sorrows, and helps us to forget,
But time so far has only proved how much we miss you yet.
God gave us strength to fight it and courage to bear the blow,
But what it meant to lose you, no one will ever know.
Sadly missed by Mr. and Mrs Carmen Vigliotto and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mason.

In loving memory of my dear husband who died 17 years ago today, February 9, 1940.
Sadly missed by his wife, Mrs. Lilia Mignini Grilli

UN Political Committee Speeds Algerian Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N Y. (UP)— The U.N. Political Committee called two sessions today to try to speed up debate on Algeria where French troops were reported to have killed 120 rebels in the bloodiest 48 hours of the revolt.

Marcel Champeix, French undersecretary of interior, told a news conference France's forces in Algeria were resisting what amounts to a "new Arab crusade" supported by both Communist and Fascist elements.

He said Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser has received aid from Russia and "he also has Nazi Fascist helpers . . . France champions democracy against any type of totalitarianism."

Champeix reiterated the French claim the gun-running ship Athos, captured off North Africa last year, was loaded in Egypt. He sharply rejected Egyptian reports France "invented" the Athos in an effort to influence the U.N. debate on Algeria.

In the Security Council late Friday India's V. K. Krishna Menon lectured for three hours and 53 minutes on the Kashmir dispute to reject in full Pakistan's formula for settling the Kashmir dispute.

Ghostly Lights Peer Through Ice

SPIRIT LAKE, Iowa (UP) — Ghostly headlights glowed today from the watery grave of two fishermen whose autos cracked through an ice-coated lake.

The victims were identified as the driver of the two cars, Joe Burley, 60, Hartley, Iowa, and Jerry Thompson, 55, Lake Park, Iowa.

Authorities said Burley's car went through the ice first Friday night. Charles Lanz, 59, and Henry Peterson, 63, both of Hartley, escaped.

Thompson and Walter Kreisel, 46 sped onto the ice, but their rescue attempt was foiled when their car also sank. Kreisel was able to swim free of the submerged auto.

Hollywood Logic

Airport Operations May Be Investigated

WASHINGTON (UP)—The congressional investigation of last week's fatal airline crashes may lead to an investigation of airport operations throughout the nation

The House Commerce Committee temporarily halted its inquiry into the New York and California crashes late Friday after turning up "serious questions" about both of them.

Committee Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) charged the crash at Pacoima, Calif., involved "dereliction." He said he had "some very serious questions" about the New York City crash.

Eight persons were killed when a jet fighter and a new transport collided during test flights. Twenty persons were killed when a Northeast Airlines plane crashed on Rikers Island seconds after taking off in a snowstorm from La-Guardia Airport.

Harris said he thought airport conditions generally needed looking into and cited Washington National Airport as "the worst operated" in the county.

Harris specifically questioned whether the Northeast Airlines plane was fit and whether the weather was proper for takeoff. He said the ship was an "old plane" and that "they knew something was wrong."

Northeast Airlines President George E. Gardner said in Boston that there was "no basis" for Harris' statements and that Harris had been "misled by somebody."

Gardner said that since the plane's initial flight Jan 25. 1955, it had logged 8 314 hours in the air and was "still a young plane."

He said the pilot "knew his business" and "never would have taken off if he thought something was wrong."

Marine Recruit's Father Praises Despite Charges

PARRIS ISLAND, S C (UP)— A father who came to this sprawling Marine Corps recruit center to look into charges that his son was beaten during boot training prepared to leave today after calling for an end of "brutality" but praising the corps as a "good outfit."

Nelson R. Porter, 44, of Hartford, Vt, said he felt like a "squealer and betrayer" for making public his son's charges that he was beaten over the head with a steel bar and forced to march with sand in his mouth during his boot training period.

However, Porter said he saw a one-and-one-half inch fresh scar on his son's head four weeks ago, apparently as a result of the attack. His son, 18-year-old Pvt David Lee Porter said in a letter to his father that he was beaten for entering a drill instructor's room without removing his hat.

The elder Porter, who Friday watched a Marine parade at this big "boot camp," said he felt that his trip was "for the good of the corps."

Porter said "although I realize I am getting a soft soap job here, I still think the Marine Corps is a good outfit — but brutality such as this must be eliminated."

27 Teenagers in Custody as Ring Of Shoplifters

ANOKA, Minn. (UP)—Twenty-seven teenagers, none over 16, were in the custody of their parents today awaiting court action on charges they stole $1,000 worth of goods in a two-month shoplifting binge.

Police said the 26 girls and one 14-year-old boy they arrested used ingenious methods to steal the goods, which were mostly articles of girls' clothing.

One of the girls arrested told how she slipped a pair of woman's figure skates around her neck and strolled out of a department store here as though she had been skating and was "just shopping."

Another said she "put the clothes right on" while an accomplice held a clerk's attention. Police said many half-slips were taken in this way as girls put them on behind a counter while the clerk wasn't looking.

U. S. Communist Party Convention Opening Today

NEW YORK (UP)—The 16th national convention of the Communist Party — and the first in seven years—opens today on what may be the liveliest debate of its history.

Major issue before the four-day meeting is a new constitution which declares a certain independence from Moscow and allows that difference of opinion may be tolerated in good Communist circles.

Considerable difference of opinion has already been expressed about the constitution the draft of which was first made public last September in preparation for this week's convention.

The 300 delegates will meet in a lower East Side ballroom because it failed in attempts to obtain convention space in hotels and halls in the midtown area.

U. S. Steel Prices Up on Some Products

PITTSBURGH (UP)— Price increases ranging from 3½ to 4 per cent on a variety of U. S. Steel Corp products went into effect today.

Hot-rolled bars, reinforcing bars, tub rounds, skelp, semi-finished steel, rods, wire and alloy products were among those affected by the new price policy. The firm said overall effect of these revisions were estimated at less than 4 per cent

U. S. Steel's National Tube Division revised prices of standard and certain pipe and mechanical tubing which will amount to an approximate increase of 3½ per cent.

Benson to Cut Some Supports

WASHINGTON (UP) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson today was expected to lash 1957 price supports for animal feed grains and to set 1957 cotton supports close to last year's level.

Informed sources said these moves had been recommended by top Agriculture Department advisers.

A spokesman said Benson also was said to be ready to announce a light reduction in federal price crops for soybeans, and to continue virtually unchanged the support price for dairy products in the marketing year beginning April 1.

Employment 'Slowing Down' Bears Watching

WASHINGTON (UP)— Government economists said today that U.S. employment definitely has "slowed down" and bears careful watching the next few months.

The economists speculated that the decline in homebuilding has hurt employment prospects in some industries. But they said there is nothing "to be alarmed about" now even though the big job expansion of the past two years has slackened for the time.

The economists are watching to see what happens this spring. They predicted an upswing in employment within the next few months.

However, they said there appears to be at least some temporary employment weak spots in the clothing, radio and television, furniture and fabricated metals industries.

Employment figures released by the Commerce and Labor Departments Friday showed that the U.S. labor force was no larger in January than it was a year ago. The economists concluded this was only a "temporary phenomenon."

The figures showed the total number of jobholders dropped by 1,660,000 persons between December and January to 62,890,000.

It was the first month since March, 1955, that employment failed to show a year-to-year gain and the largest monthly decline since January, 1949, a period of economic recession.

The departments blamed the drop on the substantial decline in farm employment over the year.

Non-farm employment, they noted, was still at a record level for the month, totaling 57,947,000 persons — 691,000 more than a year ago.

Your Health—

Look Pretty When 'Waiting'

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

Expectant mothers should maintain a continual happy and contented frame of mind.

Keeping up your appearance despite your expanding figure will help a great deal. Don't "let yourself go" just because you're going to have a baby.

While it's important to wear nice clothes because of the mental uplift they bring, it's just as important, from the physical aspect, to wear the proper clothing.

All clothing, of course, should be adequate for the weather. You've go to keep warm.

But no matter what the temperature, you should shy away from high heels, at least during your pregnancy. Heels no more than one and one-half inches in height are advised.

If the heels are higher, I think you'll find it difficult to stand. This is especially true in the final months of pregnancy with the rapidly changing weight balance.

A bad fall during pregnancy, remember, can be a serious thing.

It is also suggested that you avoid rolled stockings and garter bands. These tend to interfere with circulation and might cause swelling of the ankles and feet.

The brassiere should lift the breasts upward and inward. While it should offer firm support, it should not flatten the breasts, since this might be harmful.

A maternity corset is advisable for some mothers-to-be in the latter months of pregnancy. It relieves the work and tension placed upon the muscles of the abdomen and provides welcome comfort.

Ask your doctor whether such a corset might aid you. If he suggests you get one, be sure that it is fitted carefully. Corsets made of non-elastic material probably are best, since most elastic tends to lose its strength.

Newsmen Rate High In the Ulcer Field

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — Dr. John M. Waugh, governor of the American college of surgeons, told a sectional meeting of the group Thursday that doctors and newspaper city editors are the likliest professional men to develop ulcers.

"It's because they're such perfectionists," Waugh said. "They drive themselves too hard."
